THE PROGRESS OF THE SOUTH.

The departure of the Villarino this morning for the ports of the far South, crowded with cargo, immigrants, colonists, sheepfarmers and railway navvies, is another reminder to us all of the great changes that are going on in this country.

Two years ago Bahia Blanca was but a melancholy "cangregal;" and as for Patagones, it was a penal colony for our street criminals. Building sites in the town of Bahia Blanca could be had gratis on signing a "solicitud" to the Municipality, and chacras of 20 squares each could then be bought for 5,000 paper dollars. It is idle now to rehearse the revival that within the last year has taken place in these Southern parts. We all know it and we all speak of it; and if any one doubts, we refer him to Mr. Goodhall, the real estate agent of Bahia Blanca.

There is one spot, however, in the South, about which our readers know so very little that it may interest many of them to hear something about Viedma. It is the capital of what is termed the Argentine territory, Patagonia, a district governed by Colonel Winter, who leaves this morning in the steamer, and it has an area of about 10,000 square leagues.

Viedma has been built up within the memory of a child of ten years old; it is situated on the right bank of the Rio Negro, exactly in front of the old frontier town, Carmen de Patagones, which belongs to the Province of Buenos Ayres, but which, to the disgrace of our governing party, has never yet been visited by the Governor of the Province or any of his Ministers, or by the Archbishop. Patagones is over a hundred years old, is built on a steep, arid sandhill, and possesses, we may say, all the commerce of the Rio Negro. It has no Governor or "Gefe Politico," but is ruled by Mr Cordoba, Juez de Paz, and the Municipality. The real governor of the place, in point of commerce, is Bartorelli, an Italian merchant; and the governor, in point of political antiquity, is Mr. José Atkins, who, we believe, for over 20 years held the post of Judge, or "Jefe," and to whose exertions Patagones is indebted for the new Cemetery, the Column in the Plaza, and many other local improvements.

The town of Viedma is built on a large flat plain, extending from the river back to the mountains. Governor Winter has constructed, from the timber of some wrecked vessels, a decent mole; and, leading from the mole up to the Government House, there is a very handsome esplanade, built by the prisoners in their hours of idleness. Alongside this esplanade is a most beautiful poplar-fringed quinta, belonging to Mr. Solomon, a prosperous Welsh colonist, who now has flocks of sheep and an estancia away up on the Rio Negro, beyond Lambaré, Pringles, and Kincaid's.

When the river floods its banks, the waters enter on the Viedma quintas, which is very injurious, but which will be remedied if the Government make its canal at the China Muerta, debouching in the valley and Cerro del Polo, the entrance to the Bay of San Blas; the flood waters of the Rio Negro, which now so seriously damage the chacras around Viedma, will be diverted from their present course and utilized for the labour of man.

Dr. Humble, who lives about half a mile from the esplanade of Viedma, has a charming quinta that runs down to the river's edge. The Doctor is esteemed and beloved by all; he holds service every Sunday at his house for the few English and German Protestants about there. The Doctor is a skilled physician, and if in London or Dublin, would have a large practice. The new Juez de Paz at Viedma is Mr Isaac Crespo, an excellent, active, intelligent man, beloved by the people who have elected him. The post he holds, as their Juez de Paz, in national territory is elected by the people, and not appointed by the Government.

But the great man in Viedna is Winter, whose long experience on the frontier is invaluable to the post which he fills; and we believe that if the National Government and Congress adopt his views and support his projects, the south bank of the Rio Negro, the Ballechota Valley, the peninsula of San José, and all the magnificent territory embraced between Chupat and the Rio Negro, will become the happy homes of thousands and tens of thousands of European families. The Italians and the Basques are already there, prosperous and independent men. Their rights to the lands they occupy are guarded by Governor Winter. There is land for everyone down there.

At the foot of the mountain, with a stream running before your door, you can purchase land from the Government at 500 pats. per league.

The land stretching back from Viedma to the mountains belongs to the River Plate Bank in this city, Larazabal and Correa Morales. We had supposed these lands very valuable, but the neigbours told us otherwise. The cattle from the little town graze on them, and an Englishman, many years ago, put up a puesto on one of these "suertes," but—terrible to relate—in a fit of delirium tremens he committed suicide.

Governor Winter takes down with him this morning families for his new colony. We wish them all the brightest and happiest success. A diver, with two men, also goes to repair the English steamer in San Blas.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent)

April 20th.

One of the most shameless political demonstrations that has been known for a long time has just taken place in the half civilized capital of this province. Nothing could have occurred that would have given a more convincing proof of the barbarous and ignorant character of the elements that now predominate in Santa Fe. It is almost incredible to see, side by side, in this province, marching along as if cordial allies, the great spirit of Industry and Progress vivified by the foreign element, and the retrogade spirit of militarism and ignorance. Just fancy in the province of Santa Fe, that is now known in Europe as an exporter of wheat, maize and linseed, with a town like Rosario, or Buenos Aires on a smaller scale, that the Government should invite the military element to the capital to commemorate the 14th April in year 1878, when a petty revolution in the streets of Santa Fe was put down and a score or so of poor devils were shot. An event that it should be the interest of every respectable citizen to hush up and forget is, after the lapse of five years, turned into a popular object of festivity and triumph by our Government and the military element of the province.

But you will naturally ask, where is the necessity of any military element in a province dedicated to industry? Necessity, there is none; but certain political and personal ends were to be obtained, and it was only possible to obtain them by militarizing the province, organizing two permanent battalions and choosing a special class of men (we all know what they are), as officers of the militia. Colonels, Lieutenant Colonels, Majors and Captains became as plentiful as blackberries, all selected from that amiable and numerous class of society who rarely think for themselves and become the abject slaves of the man in power who flatters them and gives them a small share of the loaves and fishes.

The pseudo military men, of course, are taken from a class wholly and totally uneducated, who are vain of the privilege of wearing a sword, vain of their close connection with a man they have themselves constituted an object of stupid workship, and delighted with the impression that their military rank places them on a par with the respectable classes of society. These are the men that offer themselves as willing, and at the same time ignorant puppets of the man to whom they owe their sword, uniform and position. These are the men who gather together the poor peasants who at the word of command elect the candidates chosen by the great No. 1.

In the disgraceful celebration of a disgraceful day, a paper was circulated with the printed "Happy thought" of 68 heroes, Lieutenant Colonels, Colonels, and Majors; all most ludicrous, most laughable adulation of their chieftain. Who they got to write these happy thoughts goodness knows, for there are few of the long list of Field officers of the province that are able to write a sentence.

One Colonel offers his life and fortune to the idol; another is brief and to the point "order and you shall be obeyed." A Major Cepeda says "Dr Iriondo, to obey and avenge (!) you my hand is armed!" Another valiant Major says "I shall always be one of the avengers of traitors." A Colonel Vazques, transported with enthusiasm says "Thy grand civic virtues (sic) have elevated thee to the pinnacle of admiration." "My lance and my arm are at your service," says Col. Franco. Col. Cordoba gives his opinion that Dr Iriondo is the Santafecino Washington. "Down with the anarchical press of Rosario" is the happy thought of Lieut. Col. Puccio, the only one of the 68 that does not contain the name of the great man. Another draws a parrallel between Iriondo and Mirabout (Mirabeau?). "The chiefs who form the Club del Pueblo will never obey any other influence than that of Dr Iriondo exclaims Col. Zabroso." My sword is always ready in your service, says Lieut. Col. Yañes etc.

To read all this supreme bosh, one would think we were in Bolivia or in some South American state in a chronic state of revolution, instead of in an industrious, busy centre like Santa Fe, where the great bulk of the people think of nothing but growing wheat, unloading and loading steamers and sailing vessels and despatching goods to the Interior. But there is such obtuseness in our governing element that they cannot appreciate the fact that they are making egregious asses of themselves.

The large Sorghum Distillery of Messrs Bergmann & Co, situated in the flourishing town of Cañada de Gomez, on the Central Argentine railroad, was destroyed, or partially destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. It is supposed the origin of the fire was lightning. This is a great pity, as the distilling of spirits from the Sorghum cane had just merged into a success, and this accident may possibly deter the prosecution of that industry. We understand Messrs Bergmann were insured.

W. P.

LADY FLORENCE DIXIE.

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE ASSAULT ON HER.

The investigation by the police has cleared up one or two points. It is shown that the yellow-coloured cart which was seen being driven at a fast pace from the direction of Clewer towards The Fishery was not occupied by the supposed criminals. It was being driven by Mr Inge to the estate of Colonel Harford, Down-place. Mr Inge was conveying in his trap his wife and a friend to pay a short visit to a sister, who is one of the servants at Colonel Harford's. The soldier who was seen in the neighbourhood, and who, it appears, was Private Bates, of the Scots Guards, says he saw Lady Florence Dixie twice. The first time she was in the highway, and on his returning she was in the plantation, near Captain Brocklehurst's house, The Willows. He was struck with the beauty of the St. Bernard dog which was with her. He never saw anything of the two women, nor did he hear any cry or noise of any kind, although it is evident from the statement made by Lady Florence that the soldier must have passed within a very few minutes of the attack. Lady Florence Dixie, after a good night's rest, rose at an early hour yesterday morning, and is reported to feel much better. Her ladyship has, but for a slight dizziness, almost completely recovered from the severe shock which she sustained, and she is in excellent spirits. Letters and telegrams of congratulation continue to arrive at The Fishery. The Queen made inquiries through the Lord-in-Waiting yesterday morning as to the health of her ladyship. A statement has been made by the gardener in the employ of Captain Brocklehurst, of The Willows, a man named Groves, who says that at the time when the assault is said to have been made he was at work at a distance of not more than thirty yards from the spot but heard no sound whatever proceeding from the direction of the fence, and saw no people struggling on the ground. Indeed, it was not until some time after that he became aware of the alleged outrage that had been committed within so short a distance of where he was working. Mr Pennicott, the proprietor of the Surley Hall Hotel, was likewise on his premises at the rear of the house about a quarter to five. The grounds slope gently down to the bank of the Thames, and from the point at which he stood he states that he could easily command a clear view of the spot where the reported assault was committed, but he neither saw nor heard anything unusual.

Lady Dixie made the following statement to a reporter of the Press Association:—

I have received threatening letters for some time past—six, I believe, altogether. The first came in July of last year, and the last about a month ago. I do not wish it to be thought that I throw suspicion on anybody for this until it is proved; nor do I want to let it be known where the letters came from or what were their contents. The English people, you know, are too fond of coming to quick conclusions. I do not blame the Land League for this, however bad the Land League may be, until there is proof forthcoming. Directly there is proof, then, I say, strike out as hard as you like. I wish it to be distinctly understood that I do not say it was the Land League. It may have been or it may not have been, but I don't lay the blame with anybody yet. The first threatening letter I received told me that if I came to Ireland I should be killed. However, very shortly after, I did go to Ballina, in the West of Ireland. While I was there there was no attempt made, so far, as I know, to hurt me or take my life. The letter was placed in the hands of Mr. Trevelyan, who, I was afterwards given to understand, established a kind of police protection over me. I did not, however, see much of the police. At the time I was unconscious of what he had done. On hearing of it I was so much displeased that when I received further threatening letters I burnt them, and said nothing whatever about them. I dislike protection. When in Ireland I found the people very friendly. I worked amongst them, and did my best to help them. In August of last year I made an appeal for a fund which should enable the cottiers and small farmers to avail themselves of the benefits of the Arrears Act. The appeal which I issued proved very successful, for I got close upon £6,000, which was distributed amongst £2,000 small farmers all along the West. I returned from Ireland about two months ago. While staying in that country I received, I believe, four threatening letters. It may have been five, but I am getting so used to them that I take no notice of them. What the contents of these letters were I decline to say now, but this I do say—I lay no blame to the Irish people for this. As a nation I love them as much as ever. I have always been very fond of the Irish, and still shall be, I hope. With the exception of the pain in the head, I may repeat that I am now all right. I owe my life to the St. Bernard dog. My escape is a wonderful one, and that is all I can say."

Lady Florence Dixie writes to us:—"There appears to be an erroneous idea in circulation, that I attribute the attack made upon me to the Land League in consequence of the antagonism I have shown to the organisation. I wish to correct this impression. In reply to numerosu questions as to whether I attribute it to that source, I have invariably replied that, though I had my own private opinions on the subject I would prefer not to make them known. In absence of all proof, I should think one should be very careful not to allow indignation to get the best of one's calm reason in order that no judgmoat may be unlawfully cast upon an organization, however bad it may be. I wish it to be distinctly understood that I have not laid the blame to any one's door, nor expressed any opinion publicly on the matter, even by insinuation. To any one endeavouring to elicit my opinion I have invariably replied that I prefer not to give it. In the absence of proof one is not in a position to judge."

FROM A CORRESPONDENT.

THE IRISH CONVENT AT MERCEDES.

This building is estimated to have cost $650,000, about one-half of which was subscribed by the Irish Community here, the remainder is alleged to have been expended by the Irish Nuns, to whom the building was given, with the object and intention of establishing a high class Girls' School, for the daughters of Irish residents in the camp districts. It would be useless to revert, now, to the causes that led to the failure of this plan, and that ended in the departure of the Nuns from the country, leaving as a charge on the property above referred to, the sums expended by them, amounting, it is said, to something about $350,000.

Mr Thomas Gahan, I believe, holds a Power of Attorney, from the absent Nvns, to represent their claim, and as the sole surviving representative, named by them, on leaving here, I can readily conceive how desirous he must be to fulfil his trust by getting back the amount owing to the Sisters. I do not, however, admit that the Power of Attorney, he holds, can be sufficient warrant for him to dispose of the entire property for the one-half of what it cost, in order to be able to remit that half to Australia, or elsewhere, sacrificing altogether the amount contributed towards the building by the Irish community. And yet this is, apparently, what is contemplated, and what I fear will take place, if some steps be not taken promptly to prevent it.

It is now some weeks since a correspondence appeared in the Standard and Southern Cross calling attention to the proposed sale of the Convent buildings, and, up to the present, we have not had a word in reply to satisfy the public, or the Contributors of the $300,000, (who are certainly joint owners of the property) that the statement in the Oeste de Mercedes was either hasty or incorrect. The substance of the report was, that the Building had been sold to some native "Sisterhood" at Mercedes, for a sum of $850,000—payable $50,000 in cash, at once, and $50,000 annually for six years. In other words, taking $25,000 a year, as a moderate rent for the place, for six years, the amount to be actually paid for the property would only be $200,000!! That such a step could be taken, at all, without the assent, nay, without even the knowledge of the Irish Community, seems almost incredible, and yet I believe it may be accepted as a fact that, although the transfer has not been yet completed, the terms of the sale, and the contemplated transfer have been agreed upon.

Surely it is not yet too late to prevent this great—what may I call it?—mistake, being accomplished. If the property must be sacrificed, in order to pay back the amounts expended by the Irish Nuns, why should not the sacrifice be in favour of those who have already some ownership? If we cannot have a good school, for girls there, (a want now well supplied elsewhere) is there any reason why it should not be converted into a high class Boys' school, for the sons of Irishmen throughout this Province? The locality could not be better chosen, the building is suitable in size and conveniences, in fact all that could be desired, and to carry out the altered plan, I propose, the present moment is also opportune.

Father O'Reilly, the Chaplain at Mercedes, will soon be going to Ireland. Could not arrangements be made by him, while there, to send out a community of Christian Brothers, or Carmelite Priests, who would at once open a Boys' school, at Mercedes? The teaching qualifications of either are too well-known to require recommendation, especially to Irishmen. The rest is not very difficult. If Mr. Gahan be duly authorized to sell, on the terms particularized above, I presume five, or six, or ten, Irishmen can be found to guarantee the first payment of $50,000; the remainder is simply a question of rent for the building, for the new occupants. I believe there are few here who have more deeply at heart the welfare of his countrymen than Father O'Reilly, the carrying out of the project I have sketched would be but one more proof of his interest in their welfare. A good school for Irish boys, established at Mercedes, conducted by a community of teaching Priests, or Christian Brothers, would be one of the greatest, if not, the greatest boon that could be bestowed on the Irish community here, and it is one that, to realize, only requires a few of the leading Irishmen in the camp to meet, and talk the matter over, so as to come to some understanding with Mr. Gahan respecting the building in question. I trust therefore the matter will be, at once, taken up, by those who have sons growing up around them, and who must often have grave doubts about the education to be provided for them.

It cannot be too much to ask each one of the Irish chaplains to interest himself in the matter also, otherwise I fear that it may be found in this, as in many other instances, that "what is everybody's business is nobody's. Unfortunately we have no central organization here to represent the feelings or wishes of the large Irish colony scattered over the province. Had we any such Committee or Representative body, as other nationalities have, there would be little difficulty, or delay, in arranging the present business.

I need hardly add that I do not write with the object of criticising Mr. Gahan's proceeding, or anybody else's. He must know what he is doing, and by what authority he acts, neither do I desire to provoke discussiou or controversy. My remarks are meant for the Fathers and Mothers throughout the camp, who are most directly interested, and to these I leave my suggestions to be digested at leisure, and acted upon, should they see fit. Beyond the desire to assist in any good work, for the benefit of my fellow-countrymen here, I have no direct or indirect interest, or intervention, in the matter, neither can I pretend to be of any practical use in carrying out the scheme I propose. My share is done in writing this letter, and thereby directing attention to it; the rest is for others, who have the means, and, I would fain hope, the will also.

GENERAL T. O. OSBORN

We cull the following from the Washington Republican of Feb. 8th, in reference to the esteemed U.S. Minister in this Republic.

Few men in private life are better known in Washington than Dr. D. G. Rush, grandson of the celebrated Dr. Benjamin Rush, the greatest surgeon that N. America perhaps ever produced, and one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. His constant companion during the past three months, until a few days ago, has been General Thomas O. Osborn, Minister to the Argentine Republic. They were seldom separated, and it was safe to wager that if one was in sight the other was somewhere in the immediate vicinity. The Damon and Phythias attachment of the two men, who are past the meridian of life, dates back twenty years. Dr Rush was a surgeon during the war. He enlisted at the breaking out of the rebellion, and performed excellent service on the field and in the hospitals, and in a year or two he was transferred to the officers' hospital at Norfolk. He early took issue with other surgeons on the question of amputation of limbs, and on scores of occasions he refused point blank to cut off arms or legs when his associates in consultation decided that the operations would have to be performed to save life. It was on one of these occasions that he was called upon to amputate General Osborn's arm. The General, desperately wounded, was laid out on a table and the saw and knives were placed within the surgeon's reach. Dr Rush examined the patient, and although it had been decided that amputation was absolutely necessary by nine surgeons, one of whom was Dr McAlleaud, brother of Gen. McAlleaud, then Commander-in-Chief of the Army, he not only peremptorally declined to cut off the mangled limb, but refused to allow another to do it. The wounded man also protested when he found he had a friend, and the operation was postponed. In four months the General was sitting up, and it was not long until he was out. He is as sprightly to-day as though nothing had ever troubled him. Since the day Dr Rush saved his arm, Gen. Osborn has entertained for him the warmest affection. The doctor saved a leg for Gen. O. L. Mann, of Chicago, and legs and arms for many others who came under his care. He had a horror of unnecessary amputation, and before the close of the war he had the satisfaction of seeing his views very generally adopted by the leading surgeons of both armies. Skillful healing treatment and nursing were substituted in a great measure for the brutal butchery that characterized the practice of the surgical art in the earlier days of the "unpleasantness." Latterly, amputation was resorted to only in very desperate cases, whereas at first limbs were shortened in many instances because it was thought a stump would heal quicker and better than a mangled, ragged wound and a splintered bone.

AN AMERICAN'S TOUR IN EUROPE

ENGLISH RAILROADS INFERIOR TO AMERICAN ONES IN EVERYTHING BUT SPEED.

NO IDEA OF REAL LIBERTY IN FRANCE.

The reading-room of the Lord Workingman's Lyceum, No. 135 Greenwich street, was filled Tuesday with intelligent men and women who listened with much interest to a lecture by Mr Chauncey M. Depew on "A Summer's Driftwood." Mr. Depew, who was introduced by Mr. James W. Alexander, a trustee of the Lyceum, said his lecture would be a brief account of his experiences during a holiday tour in Europe last summer. "There are certain people in the world," he continued, "whose death would be a great relief to their fellows. Those who vainly risk life and hardships in a search for the North Pole, the man who boasts to sea-sick sufferers that he eats five meals a day, and the man who tells people who cannot sleep that he slumbers fourteen hours a day should all be hanged at the yard-arm." Several of the sailor songs were recited by Mr. Depew with such expression that the hearers were convulsed with laughter. Of the English railways Mr. Depew said: "They are behind ours in comfort and convenience, but surpass ours in speed." Speaking of the danger of separate compartments, he said one might be locked up for hours with a lunatic or a prize-fighter. The fares in first-class carriages are nearly three times as much as on the New York Central Railroad; in the second, half as much again, and in the third-class compartments the same fare is charged as for velvet-upholstered seats here.

American beef has relegated the roast beef of Old England to legendary lore. He said that no place is so full of historical and literary associations as London. It is a great cosmopolitan city, having more Irishmen than Dublin, more Germans than Berlin, and nearly as many Frenchmen as Paris. The throng in Hyde Park in the height of the season interested him very much.

The Princess of Wales, dressed in blue, drove by, looking pale and anxious and mechanically bowing to the right and to the left. At the Bank of England, the Tower of London and Westminster Abbey a host of recollections of the historic past were brought up by the old customs and the associations of the places. The vast proportions of St. Paul's cannot be appreciated until the interior is reached, and there the attention is held by the architectural beauties of the grand dome. "When we came to the statue and sarcophagus of the Duke of Wellington," continued Mr. Depew, "I asked the guide if he remembered Colonel Bob Ingersoll and he answered ruefully that he did. When Colonel Ingersoll visited St. Paul's the guide (pointing out the statue) said, with dignified solemnity: "That, sir, is tho monument of the Duke."

"What Duke?" asked Colonel Bob. "All the dukes are intimate friends of mine."

"The Iron Duke," replied the guide, "the great Duke of Wellington, sir; his body is inclosed in two metallic coffins, a rosewood casket and a stone sarcophagus."

At this Bob struck the guide on the breast with such ardor that he was knocked six feet away, and exclaimed:

"Old man, you have got him. If he ever gets out cable at my expense to R. G. Ingersoll, Peoria, Ill.'

Mr. Depew saw Queen Victoria driving in the grounds of Windsor Castle with John Brown on the box. A short walk brought him to the monument of the poet Gray, and the scene of his "Elegy in a Country Church-yard." He spoke of the reminisences called up by the little house at Stratford-on-Avon, with its diamond shaped windows, where Shakespeare was born, the cottage where he courted Anne Hathaway, the very park of Charlecothe, tenanted now by a descendant of that Sir Charles Lucy who punished the youthful Shakespeare for poaching. Chatsworth, the seat of the Duke of Somerset, and Blenheim, the seat of the Duke of Marlborough, but two of many beautiful places brought up vividly by the economic difficulty of the unequal distribution of land which England must soon face.

In the House of Commons Mr. Depew was struck by the absence of desks or papers and thought that little eloquence was shown by any of the famous members except Gladstone. The style was conversational and a much more accurate and thorough knowledge of public questions is evidenced than in our Congress.

He gave a humorous imitation of a debate in the House of Lords between the Earls of Camperdown and Delawar on the establishment of a new fish-stand in Billingsgate. The hesitating manner of English speakers, Mr. Depew thought, was inherited from the halting of the speakers before the days of stenographers, so as to allow the parliamentary reporters to get every word down. The shoddy American traveller, he said, is a creature whose behaviour is enough to make one ashamed of his country and wonder why the animal is not killed. These persons probably include but one-tenth of the Americans in Europe, but they produce a greater impression than the other nine-tenths. The Hudson he thought immeasurably superior to the Rhine. He varied his description of the Rhine scenery with a humorous recital of a specimen legend of an old castle and a reminiscence of an early declamation of "Bingen on the Rhine." At Fontainbleau he found the cherry-wood table on which Napoleon Bonaparte signed his abdication of more interest than the stately columns, the valuable mosaics and the beautiful sculpture. In Germany the great compact military organisation was very impressive. The French beat the Yankees both in money-making and money-saving, and a Frenchman will live in luxury when an American would be starved. A Frenchman's five-hours' spree on 'eau sacré' costs but 5 cents. Neither the people nor the Government understand republicanism or liberty. He attended a military Mass in the Chapel of the Invalides, when the soldiers saluted the Host with presented arms, a ceremony devised by Napoleon Bonaparte to inspire his soldiers with reverence for the Grand Commander-in-Chief. Mr. Depew went on to tell of the notable sights witnessed by him in Holland, Germany and Italy, and when he closed an unanimous vote of thanks was given with great enthusiasm—New York World.

WONDERFUL LONDON.

ITS POPULATION AND ITS HANSOMS.

Last evening an influential conference of delegates appointed by various vestries and district boards in the metropolis was held at the Mansion-house on the subject of the cab radius. The Lord Mayor presided, and in opening the proceedings, said they had met to consider a question which was of great interest to the inhabitants of the metropolis. A deputation from the Amalgamated Cab-drivers' Society were in attendance, and as it would be useless to attempt to legislate in regard to a large and hard-working body of the community without hearing the views of the class most interested, he thought they should be called in. This was unanimously agreed to.

Mr Cable, of the Hackney District Board, moveed:—"That the present four-mile radius, regulating the charge for cab fares having been fixed in 1853, and the population having so largely increased, that conference, representing 25 vestries and district boards of the metropolis, was of opinion that the time had arrived when a reconsideration of the limit of the area had become necessary." He remarked that the members of the conference represented a population of 2,753,190. They disclaimed any idea of oppressing the cabdrivers of London, who were a hard-working set of men; but they thought that justice should be done, looking at the great increase of the population of late years, to those who lived outside the old four-mile radius and who demurred to paying 1s. a mile for their cab hire while those within paid but 6d. He reviewed the various alterations in cab fares and distances from 1831 to the present time, and said that there were now 9,982 cabs licensed in the metropolis. Of these, 3,713 were "four-wheelers" and 6,269 hansoms. In 1873 there were 9,655 cabs, of which 5,247 were "four-wheelers" and 4,408 hansoms, and it was remarkable how the former class had largely diminished and the latter enormously increased. In 1851 the population of London was 2,362,236, and in 1881 it had risen to 4,764,312. That increase was in itself a very strong argument in favour of a reconsideration of the cab radius. Again, the population living within the four-mile radius had risen from 1,864,638 to 2,667,495. If an ellipse were formed, eight miles between north and south and ten miles between east and west, an additional population of 524,552 would be included; but if a five-mile circle were preferred, the increase would be 688,315. During the last 20 years the population of Wandsworth had risen 198 per cent, Fulham 186, Camberwell 161, Hampstead 137, Lewisham 129, Hackney 123, and others in proportion, and he urged that these statistics were conclusively in favour of at least an inquiry into the subject.

Mr. C. H. Campbell, of Kensington, seconded the proposition.

Mr. H. W. Rowland, of the Amalgamated Cabdrivers' Society, criticized the arguments used, and urged on the part of the cabmen that while the process was now permitted of giving a licence to any comer to send cabs upon the streets on payment of a small duty, without consideration of the needs of the public or the numbers of the trade, there must be regulations of radius and fares to enable the drivers to earn the scanty livelihood they did. The whole system required remodelling, but he believed that Sir W. Harcourt's Bill for the Government of the metropolis would deal with the question, and he advised the conference to wait until they saw his proposals.

After some further discussion a committee was appointed to consider the whole question and confer with the cabdrivers and others interested in the matter.

¶ The Governor of Salta has made application to Governor Rocha for some information as to how the 'Marcas' Law is worked in this province. This looks ugly for Salta estancieros. Ten to one His Excellency of Salta is going in for raising the wind on the Renovacion system.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Amongst the lists of receipts for the Irish Orphanage and its Building Fund published yesterday, the sum of $500 m/c given to Mr Carroll for the Starving Children Fund by Mr Terence Moore, got erroneously mixed up. We publish it, corrected, to-day.

The Villarino's departure has been postponed till Tuesday by order of President Roca, to enable the Army Paymaster to start in her, with 240,000 pats for the troops in the South.

Where are you going to-day readers? To church? Oh! "cela va sans dire." But afterwards? You don't know? Well, just try the races at Palermo: the programme is tip-top, and the weather likely to be splendid. If you object to horse-racing on Sunday, as very many people do, then stay at home and read the Standard, and when you have finished it, read it again.

There was a "novedad" from Montevideo yesterday. The Government has issued a decree reinstating all the officers in the army who are in exile, including Colonel Latorre, and inviting them in a most coaxing way to return to the bosom of their country. We apprehend that the gallant Trojan referred to will mutter "Timeo Danaos" and stay where he is. The Chambers have passed the Port Bill 'en general,' and it is certain to pass 'en particular' also. B. O. is decidedly looking up.

Bets have been made as to Lady Florence Dixie's story about the assault on her turning out real or imaginary. We don't know what to think of it. Some further particulars will be found in another column

We beg to welcome Dr. Bernard Dillon, who has just returnd from Ireland, having taken his medical diplomas in Dublin and Edinburgh with high honours. He practised for a short time in London, and he has now come out to settle here. We wish him every success.

The election of Aldermen and Town-Councillors to the reformed Municipality takes place to-day, and there is as much, or more, fuss in the papers about police regulations, etc., as if the Black Hand were expected to make a demonstration. This police meddling with everything is absurd and unnecessary. We hope the best men may win, but we have our doubts about it.

We are very glad to hear that Gen. Vedia is somewhat better.

At the late ball masque at Cannes in honour of the Prince of Wales's visit, Lady Randolph Churchill "scored all the honours." She was so closely masked and "dominoed" as to defy recognition, while her pure and exquisite French quite dispelled the idea of her being an Englishwoman or American. She knew everybody, yet nobody "spotted" her until the Prince eventually succeeded in unravelling the charming mystery before supper.

Signor Bortolazzi, the talented editor of the Slavjasnke, has sent round a circular asking all the papers in town to give their opinion as to whether the 22 millions of Slavs under Austria have a right to their independence. We should say they have, if they can win it, but in trying to do so, they might fall out of the Austrian frying pan into the Russian fire, and gain nothing.

Mr and Mrs John O'Curry and their relative Miss Dillon, will shortly leave for Europe, for a prolonged sojourn on the Continent. Mr O'C. is almost a brother of the pen, as he frequently writes for the Press. We wish him a prosperous voyage and pleasant time in old Europe.

The cold in San Luis just now is very severe, and is all the more felt in consequence of the Nat. Bank restricting advances and leaving many applicants for discount 'out in the cold.'

We must again compliment the Tribuna Nacional. Its numerous daily telegrams from all parts of the Interior are most useful for all who have interests there.

The small-pox is dying out fast in the city, nipped by the cold weather. It freezes at night now.

The Health Board's last meeting was, as usual, taken up with the tenderest spot in doctors' hearts—Fees. Fee, Faw, Fum!

Our Italian friends are the most avid on earth for patriotic "fiestas." They are preparing for another at Palermo on May 6th, to honour the Thousand of Marsalla—heroes forgotten by the rest of the world.

The papers say that Mr. Julio Láncroze's agreement with his brother about their colossal tramway is, that he is to receive £40 a day for ten years. £40 a day! £15,000 a year! And the line was started on a paltry £2,000 capital.

Messrs. Richard and Co. have asked for an exclusive ten years privilege to build Baths at the Retiro. Exclusive fiddlestick. We want a dozen or more Baths in the metropolis, and no man should have a privilege for ten minutes, much less ten years.

Mr Monn was relieved of 65,000 of the best paper dollars the other day while travelling from Pergamino to Buenos Aires. During the long journey he indulged in "forty winks," and some well-dressed vagabonds in the carriage lightened his pockets. When Mr Monn awoke and realised the state of the case, he raised such a row that his fellow passengers thought he was as mad as a baker, or a March hare. The thieves had alighted at a distant station, and they have not been heard of since.

We received the following yesterday:

Dear Standard

A correspondent in the Standard of the 21st instant asks with reference to the Society F.T.P.O.C.T. Animals "if it be alive or dead"? and if alive, how is it that an unfortunate horse &c.' The answer Mr Editor is very simple and logical, and that is, that if Humanitas had as much humanity in him as he pretends, he would have joined the Society and, being provided with its card, would have been enabled to have done for the horse what he cavillingly expected others to do who were not present.

X.

The advices from Chile report a very ugly affair in Santiago, where the mob broke into the English Evangelical Church during service, ill-treating the ladies, beating the pastor (the Rev. Lucius Smith), burning all the Bibles and prayer-books, and finally setting the church on fire, but the flames were quickly mastered. The police were so slow in rendering aid that it is supposed they connived at the outrage, and one account says that the police led on the mob. This is truly a most disgraceful affair.

We are very glad to hear that Governor Rocha's little son was somewhat better yesterday.

The general rehearsal on Friday night by the Lambertini Children, for the performance last night at the National Theatre, was a treat. The three little ones are prodigies. The youngest boy plays a naughty spoiled child to such perfection that it required all one's common sense to dispel the illusion that he was not in earnest.

The old complaints about the Rosario Post-office are again both loud and deep. For our part, we must say that we get our exchanges and letters from that quarter with average punctuality. W. P's letter to-day is very severe on the Bombastes Furioso speeches at the military dinner given up there the other day, to commemorate some wretched street row ycleped a revolution.

A horrid fratricide occurred in the La Plata market yesterday, where an Italian puestero stabbed his brother through the heart with a stiletto and he fell dead on the spot. The murderer is a dissipated, licentious ruffian, but his victim was a hard-working man with a wife and four children. The assassin escaped, but the police are straining every nerve to catch him. Of what use, when he won't be shot?

CITY IMPROVEMENTS.

To the Editor of the Standard,

Sir,

In yours of the 10th I see some very appropriate remarks in connection with the City Improvement Works; I have myself written, lost much time, and no doubt made enemies by simply writing the truth. Your remarks in respect of the millions spent under the streets, and the coupons paid to the 'Ingleses' are perfectly just. I presume they lent the money and are entitled to their interest, and as you state in common parlance, the sewers are "eating their heads off." How is this possiblu when they have neither head or tail? No inlet no outlet; but their being partially full of excrementitious matter, and giving off deleterious gases, has and is rotting the whole system of sewers, and if not done something with very soon, your city may rest assured that another outbreak of cholera will be the consequence, when editors and all others will have to fly from an avenging hand, simply through their own neglect of nature's laws.

The Argentine Roman Cement Works in Barracas is another error of yours, not being a C. E. The works were never erected to manufacture Roman Cement, because such would have been perfectly useless for any City Improvement Works, but were erected upon a false basis for the manufacture of Portland Cement, a very different material to Roman Cement; as much difference as there is between dollars moneda corriente and pesos fuertes. The San Isidro Brick Works were another blunder of the "Comision" and no wonder they have gone to ruin. Your further remark that the only man left is the "limpiador de las letrinas" is merely a very good advertisement and far from the truth, the system being nothing new or enjoying any patent whatever. Your extract from the Libertad of Saturday, respecting a petition of Leopoldo Rochi & Co. against Messrs. Devotto & Co. is simply going over the same farce enacted years ago by the Comision's, secretary and others.

It is not a question of Sr. Devotto being a millionaire. Is he a practical man or legitimate contractor? If not, he or any other none pract

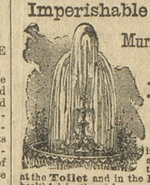
Imperishable Fragrance.



Murray & Lanman's
CELEBRATED
Florida Water.
The richest, most lasting, yet most delicate of all perfumes for use on the Handkerchief, at the Toilet and in the Bath, delightful and healthful in the sick room, relieves weakness, fatigue, prostration, nervousness and headache. Look out for counterfeits, always ask for the Florida Water prepared by the sole proprietors, Messrs. Lanman & Kemp, New York.
For Sale by Perfumers, Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LANMAN & KEMP'S Pure Medicinal Cod-Liver Oil. In the diseases leading to consumption, there is no time for experimental trifling. They are swift and often fatal. The cough that is neglected to day may culminate a week hence in pneumonia, or bronchitis, or consumption. There is but one remedy in severe cases of pulmonary disease, whether chronic or of late date. It is—so say the whole medical faculty—the oil expressed from the Liver of the Codfish. But let the patient be sure that he or she has the true remedy. Let that remedy be Lanman & Kemp's Pure Medicinal Cod-Liver oil, and the invalid will have the best possible preparation of the reliable pulmonic known. Lanman & Kemp employ competent agents who reside at the fisheries, and who select for use the sound livers of the finest fish taken on the Banks of Newfoundland. From these the oil is expressed while they are perfectly fresh, and when the process is finished it is transparent as amber crystal. It is the best modern specific in its most efficient state, and has no equal in coughs, colds, asthma, sore-throat, inflamation of the lungs or bronchia, debility, emaciation, and all the maladies terminating in consuption and confirmed liver complaint.

ON 'CHANGE.

April 21st, 1883

Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100⅝
Cedulas E	86½
National Bank Shares	105½

In Cedulas Series A the only sale was 11,000 cash at 100⅝. In Series E 18,000 cash at 86½; 20,000 for April 30th at 86½; 30,000 for May 31st at 86⅝, and 20,000 at 86½ for the same date.
National Bank Shares were dull. 1,650 sold for April 30th, opening at 105½, rising to 105⅞ and closing at 105½. 700 sold for May 31st at 107 to 106½.
The dullness of the market which has characterized the week prevailed again to-day the few transactions in both Cedulas and National Bank Shares being devoid of any special interest or feature. The idea prevails that we are on the eve of a rise in both these stocks, but up to the present there has been nothing to indicate any such movement.
Exchange continues in demand at 49⅜ with few drawers; the Banks maintaining their rate of 49½. We hear that some £80,000 drawn by the Provincial Bank of Santa Fé have been placed during the week; the Government brokers having the carriage of same.
Discounts at the Provincial and National Banks yesterday were again liberal; the private banks are doing little. In the market, however, money is abundant and we hear of one lot of $f16,000 offered against National Bank Shares.
The auction of horses at Baltar & Quesada's to-day was largely attended, all sold at fair prices.
The fine young bulls from Dr. Domingo Friss's estancia are now on view at Baltar & Quesada's and will be sold on 26th instant.
Mr. Michael Duggan was welcomed on 'Change and congratulated on his recovery.
In saladero produce no transactions reported, but it is expected that the better news received from Brazil for dried beef will give a little more impetus to killing.
At afterhours very little business done. We heard of sale of 300 National Bank Shares at 105⅝. April 30, at which price there are buyers. In Cedulas nothing done, sellers asking 86⅝ o/o for April 30.
The splendid new railway scheme of the National Government was spoken of on 'Change. It includes a line from Bahia Blanca to the Pass of Bariloche in the Andes, another from the banks of the Uruguay to Posadas in Misiones, and a third from the bank of the Parana (near the mouth of the Bermejo) to Jujuy. Oran and the Bolivian frontier. A Bill for these three lines will be laid before Congress this session.
The sales at the ring were as follows:—
Cedulas—
For cash A 11,000 at 100⅝
For cash E 18,000 at 86½
For April 30th E 20,000 at 86⅝
For May 31st E 50,000 at 86⅝-½
Sales, 99,000
National Bank Shares—
For April 30th 1,650 at 105⅜-⅞-⅝-½
For May 31st 700 at 107-106⅞-½
Sales, 2,350
Entre Rios is about to increase its debt by four millions patacones, and a bill to authorise this fresh charge on the Province is now before its Legislature. The proceeds of the loan will, it is said, be devoted to paying the Bonos Territoriales, the London Loan, the debt to the National Bank, the "libramientos" of 1881 and 1882, the bills due in the market and the 2nd and 3rd emissions of the Interal Debt.
The splendid trade of the country is daily more clearly reflected in the large receipts of the Custom House here and in Rosario. The receipts here up to Friday last were 1,142,818 pats, which means 1½ million, perhaps more, for the month. In Rosario of late the receipts have ranged from ten to fifteen thousand pats. per day, and such is the enormous pressure of business in that port that the Administrador up there has informed the Minister that extra clerks and more deposit accommodation must be at once provided, or grave inconvenience and loss to the commercial community must inevitably be the result, as the present staff of clerks is quite unable to get through the ever increasing work. We have no doubt that the Minister will at once see to this important matter.
Estancieros who may happen to be in town should not leave without inspecting the model of a new kind of "tranquera" now on view at Baltar & Quesada's. It is a vast improvement on the old thing.
Letters from Bahia Blanca describe the progress of that place as something wonderful. To supply the rapidly increasing population the Municipality have decided to build a large market on the Western side of the town; the plans are ready, and bids will be called for next week. A leading importing house in this city contemplates establishing a branch in Bahia Blanca, and things are growing so fast down there that the step is likely to prove a hit. Traders there complain most bitterly of the shocking postal service by the diligences. Sometimes two consecutive diligences arrive without a single letter or paper. This is outrageous, and the Post Master General should cut short such a state of things.
Vice-Governor Chaves has been very busy since he took the Provincial reins, and many people who had long standing credits, "espedientes" and "asuntos" waiting for the Governor's signature for months past have been most agreeably surprised by the business-like energy of the Vice-Governor, who has despatched in a jiffey hundreds of these long-standing matters. Dr. Chaves does not believe in "mañana".
The Handel was expected from Liverpool yesterday.
Dr D Salvador Gomez bought yesterday 4 leagues of camp in Bahia Blanca, adjoining his own estancia, at $200,000 per league. The camp is of a very superior quality, with fine pasturages and plenty of water. We must congratulate Dr Gomez on being the proprietor of such a splendid estancia, which measures now, adding the above 4 leagues

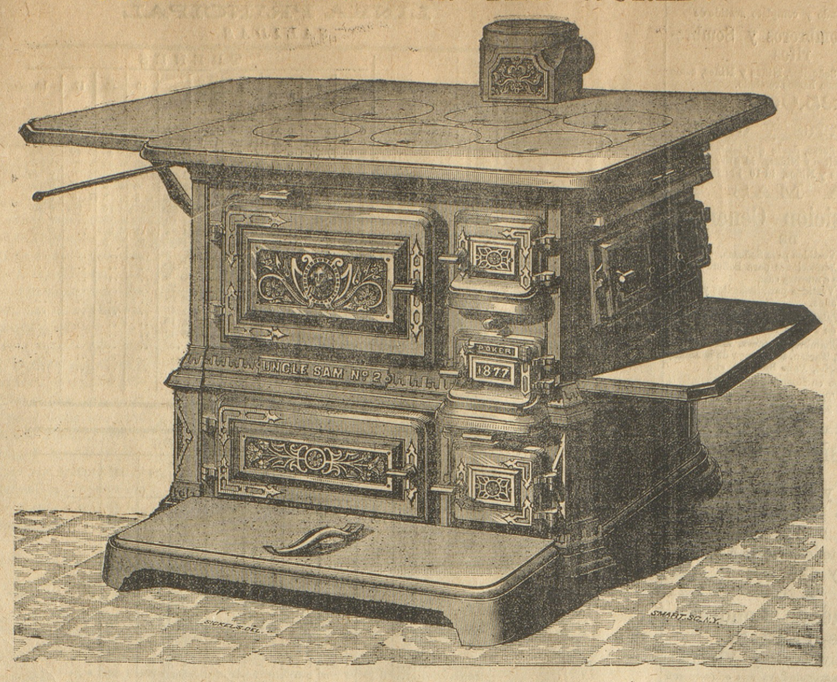
THE MOST PERFECT AND THE MOST ECONOMICAL COOKING RANGES IN THE WORLD!



'LA FAVORITA', 'LA MONADA', 'LA CASERA', 'UNCLE SAM', &C.

Awarded, THE ONLY GOLD MEDAL for Ranges of this class at the Paris Exhibition 1878.
THE ONLY SPECIAL PRIZE OF MERIT, together with Gold Medal at the Sydney Exhibition 1880. In competition with other Ranges from England, France, Belgium, the United States, etc.

These Ranges and Stoves which attracted so much attention and were so highly commended at the late Exhibition in this city, can now be obtained in great variety of size and style, at the manufacturer's depôt, just opened at

91—CALLE MAIPU—91

Special adaptations have been made to meet the peculiar requirements of this country.
One of the most valuable features in these Ranges and Stoves, is, that each part is made interchangeable, and extra pieces will always be kept on hand; thus, after years of use should any part require to be repaired, it can immediately and easily by replaced be a new piece at a comparatively trifling cost.

Ranges and Stoves will be Exhibited in operation.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague, Coughs, Colds, &c.
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
(Ex Army Medical Staff)
IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.
REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Crup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomitting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that two prizes on our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of
